Accommodation is based on double/twin sharing unless otherwise requested.

Are all transportation arrangements private?

Yes. The overland journeys included in the itinerary are arranged by private, comfortable vehicles. Domestic flights are also included for the Kathmandu–Pokhara, Pokhara–Bharatpur, and Bharatpur–Kathmandu sectors.

Is this trip physically demanding?

No. This is a relaxed luxury holiday rather than a trekking trip. There is a scenic hike from Astam to Dhampus, but it can be completed at a comfortable pace. Guests can also enjoy yoga, sightseeing, village walks, and relaxation throughout the journey.

What can I expect from the Astam experience?

Astam is one of the peaceful highlights of the trip. You will stay in a local eco-lodge surrounded by Himalayan scenery, enjoy morning and evening yoga, walk through the countryside, visit Dhampus, and experience a traditional dinner with the family who runs the lodge.

What wildlife activities are included in Chitwan?

What is the best time of year for this luxury holiday?

This trip can be enjoyed throughout the year, depending on your preferred travel dates and interests. Spring and autumn generally offer the clearest Himalayan views and most pleasant weather, while winter can be excellent for crisp mountain scenery. The monsoon season may bring occasional rain and travel disruptions, but the trip can still be arranged with suitable planning. Choose the time that best fits your schedule, and Community Trek will tailor the experience accordingly.

Are meals included in the trip cost?

Breakfast is included at the hotels and accommodations as specified in the itinerary. Selected meals, including the traditional dinner in Astam and meals included with the Chitwan program, are also covered. Lunches and dinners not specifically mentioned are generally excluded, giving you flexibility to choose restaurants according to your preference.

What should I bring for this trip?

Bring comfortable walking shoes, lightweight clothing, a warm layer, sunglasses, sunscreen, a hat, a small daypack, personal medicines, and a reusable water bottle. For Chitwan, neutral-colored, comfortable clothing and binoculars or a camera can be useful for wildlife activities.

Can the itinerary be changed or customized?

Yes. Community Trek can customize the itinerary according to your travel dates, hotel preferences, flight schedules, interests, and available time. Because domestic flights, weather, traffic, local conditions, and other circumstances can change, the order of activities may occasionally be adjusted to ensure your safety, comfort, and the best possible experience.
